A PARTNERSHIP VALUED BY THE REGULATOR

---

"I enjoyed the summit and would hope to attend similar events in future... some of these issues are probably the most important things facing the energy industry at the moment, and we really need to find good solutions to the problems we face."

Dermot Nolan,
Chief Executive Officer

"Futurewave is important because it gets into this space and it will help customers to have a better experience when dealing with energy companies."

Futurewave is innovative and collaborative, and it's for these reasons that we at Ofgem are supportive of it."

David Gray,
Ofgem Chairman

"Delighted to see all these network partners working together on a national scale (on Project Concur)."

Paul Branston,
Associate Partner

"Schemes like Futurewave play a role by putting communities in touch with energy companies and finance organisations that can help them."

Maxine Ferk,
Senior Partner
