Macmillan Cancer Information and Support Centre at Chase Farm Hospital

Together with

Royal Free London NHS Foundation Trust
Macmillan Cancer Information and Support Centre at Chase Farm Hospital

Who we are

The Macmillan Cancer Information and Support Centre at Chase Farm Hospital provides practical advice and emotional support for anyone affected by cancer. Whether you need information or just someone to talk to, we are here to listen and offer support.

This includes people who:
- require information about cancer
- have a cancer diagnosis
- have survived cancer
- are living with the consequences of a cancer diagnosis
- are looking to reduce the risks of cancer
- are a carer, relative, or friend of someone with cancer
- are healthcare professionals

How we can help

Meet with the Macmillan Information Specialist:

- for a friendly chat with someone who has time to listen and discuss cancer-related issues
- to find out about local support organisations
- to ask about access to local complementary therapies and counselling services
- to find out about local carers support and services available
We also provide

• over the phone information and support for those unable to meet us in person
• literature and resources on living with cancer
• a weekly benefits advice service in conjunction with the Local Citizens Advice Bureau
