

Make a jewel jean pocket canvass

What you need:

-The back pocket of a pair of jeans

-Fabric paint

-Glitter

-Sequins, stick on jewels and any other stick on accessories

1. Dig out old pairs of jeans and cut out the back pocket in a square shape.
2. Use the jean pockets as canvasses and encourage your children to decorate however they like.
3. Allow the children to use fabric paint or fabric pens, glitter, stick-on-jewels, sequins, and whatever else they like to decorate their pocket canvases.
4. Once dry you can frame the pockets either on some thick card with another colour card border- or if you have one, in a clip frame.
5. As an extra add on you could create a denim mural with all the children's denim pockets together.
6. You could display all the children's art together in a Jeans for Genes exhibition and ask parents to pay £1 to come and view their children's art and donate the proceeds to Jeans for Genes.

NB: You can also do this as a whole class activity, just get a large pair of jeans and lay them out on a table for all the class to gather round and decorate.
