UK AIRPLAY ANALYSIS

BY ALAN JONES

After eight straight weeks atop the radio airplay chart, Get Lucky dips to number two for Daft. Punk - but collaborator Pharrell Williams powers to his ninth straight week at the summit, because the track that topples Get Lucky from its perch is Blurred Lines, on which he is credited alongside Robin Thicke and T.I.

Blurred Lines' accession to the radio airplay throne coincides with it losing its OCC sales crown after four weeks. The track was an instant and major sales hit but its rise to radio dominance was more gradual, as it moved 66-83-33-7-3-2-1. Achieving best yet tallies of 4,399 plays and 85.07m listeners last week, it was played 26 times on Radio One - a tally topped only by the 27 spins given to Chase & Status' new single, Lost & Not Found - and was also Radio Two's fourth most-favoured song, with 15 plays. Overall, the two contributed exactly 40% of Blurred Lines' audience, which was also boosted considerably by 644 plays and a 19.08% audience share granted by the nine stations in the Capital Network, with individual tallies ranging from 69 to 73 plays. Its biggest individual tallies came from Smash Hits Radio (100 Plays) and KISS FM (75).

It is little more than a year since they launched their debut single

Breach storms to Upfront No.1, Rihanna rules Urban

■ BY ALAN JONES

Already being touted as one of the dance anthems of 2013, Jack is a bass-powered retro house monster that reverberated around the Miami Winter Music Conference to great effect, and has subsequently become an Ibiza anthem.

Its latest port of call finds the track - by Amsterdam-based Brit Ben Westbeeck under the alias Breach - dashing to the top of the Upfront chart. Westbeeck's chart debut, it blocks - at least for this week - German legends Milk & Sugar from topping the chart with their latest, Tell Me Why, which explodes 11-2, ending up just 4.02% in arrears.

For the first time in the history of the club chart, the number one records on the Commercial Pop and Urban charts trade places.

Live It Up by Jennifer Lopez feat. Pitbull climbs to the top of the Commercial Pop chart, replacing Rihanna's Right Now, while Right Now topples Live It Up from the Urban chart summit. Live It Up is the second number one hit that Lopez and Pitbull have shared on the Commercial Pop chart - their 2011 collaboration On The Floor also reached number one, while their 2012 pairing Dance Again reached number two.

Right Now is Rihanna's 10th number one on the Urban chart, which she last topped in April with Pour It Up.
