Five years after retiring from her competitive career, Kelly Sotherton remains arguably one of the most influential and outspoken voices in British Athletics as a female sportswoman.

In 2017 she was finally upgraded to Olympic Bronze medallist for the Heptathlon & 4 x 400m Relay in the 2008 games to add to her original Bronze medal in 2004. She also achieved Gold in the Melbourne Commonwealth games, all this now making her one of the most decorated female athletes in track and field history. two Bronze World Championship medals.

Kelly has since thrown herself into a wide range of roles within Sport, spanning coaching, administration and media. She has spearheaded the inception of the Athletes Associate along with being an athlete representative on the British Athletics Anti-Doping Committee and is coaching some of our brightest future Olympic hopefuls including Jasmin Sawyers. Kelly is now a columnist for the i Newspaper and an Ambassador for the 2022 Birmingham Games. She regularly features on BBC Radio 5 Live, daytime TV and is first call for News channels about the full spectrum of sporting events including her beloved Arsenal.
