As the offspring of Will Smith and Jada Pinkett Smith, both Willow and Jaden Smith have grown up as fashion forward siblings. So even when the teens are heading out to their favourite sushi restaurant, SugarFish, in LA it's done in true boho hippy meets hip-hop style. Willow's long braids swung as she made her way down the stairs next to her brother wearing a pair of flared, tie-dyed pants with a grey jacket. Jaden, meanwhile, wore a graphic black hoodie and skinny black jeans with a tie-dyed hat.

Jaden carried with him a copy of the book The Pillars of Consciousness by mystic and spiritual leader Osho. The book explores the four major streams of Eastern wisdom - Buddha, Zen, Tao and Tantra. Osho is renowned not only for his wisdom, but his ability to bring a deeper understanding of complex philosophical concepts using humor and the art of storytelling.

By reading the book Osho promises that it will 'pave the way for readers to be as Buddha said, a light unto yourself'.

Why Jaden was bringing the enlightening book to dinner with him still remains a mystery, but what is no secret is that the two were meeting their close pal Mateo Ariad and his date at the restaurant.

The fashion forward siblings have long been trendsetters, despite their age - Willow is just 13-years-old and Jaden is 15-years-old. Even at such a young age, Willow has become something of a style icon for many teenagers with her eclectic sense of fashion.
