

FORME & COLORI #6

 ZILIO A&C

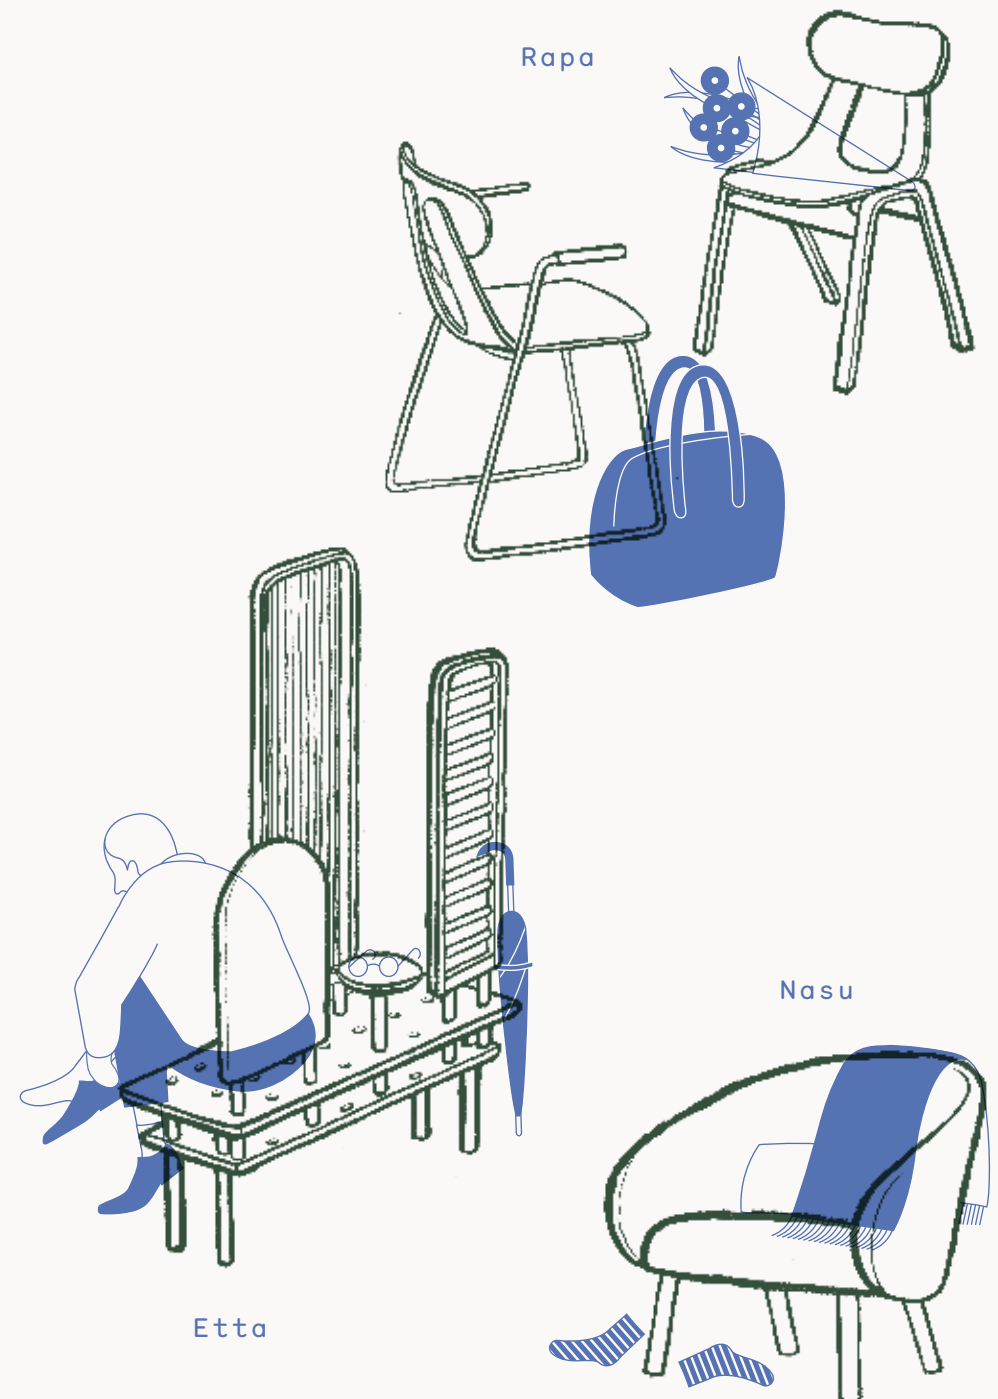

This year, Zilio A&C presents a number of new additions to its collection — the result of exciting collaborations.

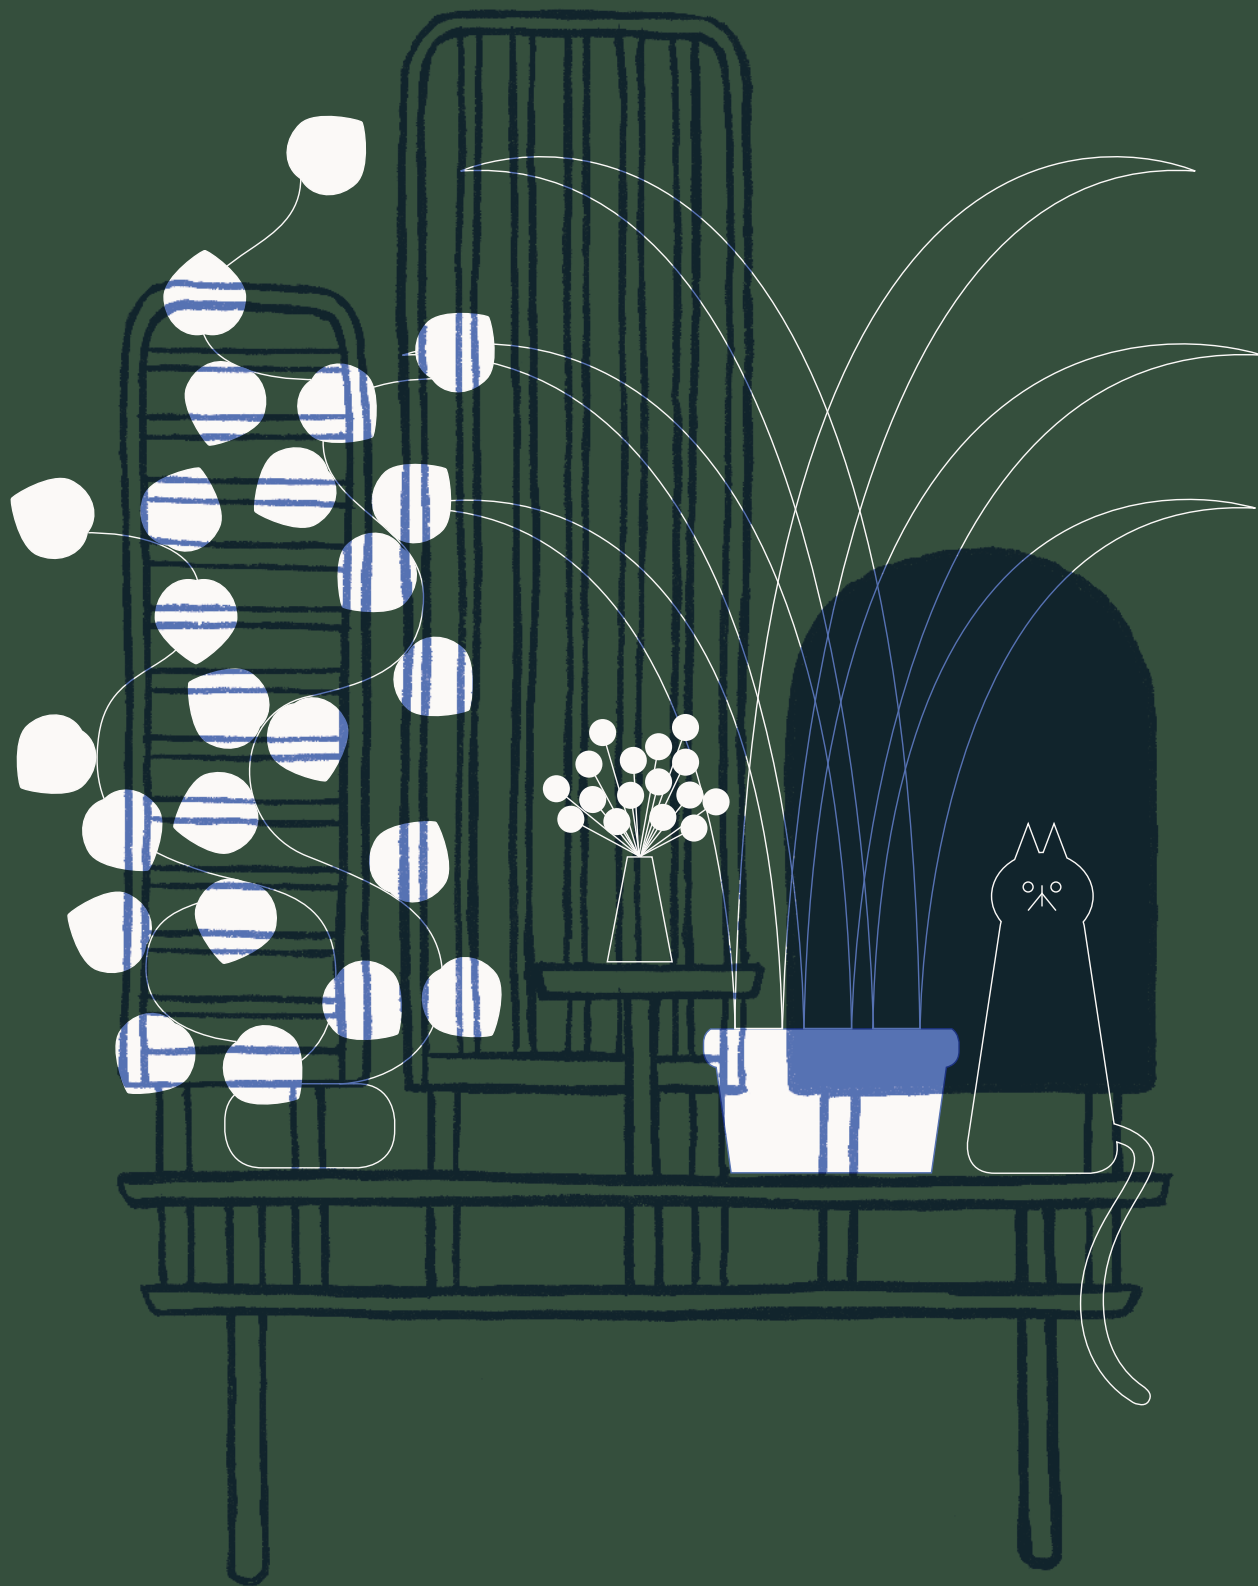

With Italian design duo Dossofiorito, we've produced Etta, a multifunctional piece of furniture to display and store objects, and act as a space divider. Its trellis-like framework can support indoor plants, like creepers, to create a living screen. Thanks to Dossofiorito's playful design, the small round shelf and uprights are removable, creating a versatility and flexibility that invites the user to arrange them in anyway they wish.

Continuing our collaboration with Mentsen, we've added a generous lounge chair to the Nasu seating family, as well as expanding the arm option on the Rapa seating family.

Zilio A&C is a family-run business based in Northern Italy, historically known for chair making. Today, we work with a handful of talented designers and studios around the world, and collaborate with local craftspeople celebrated for their production skills and knowledge of new technologies. The result is beautiful products that suit a contemporary way of living and working.
