For the past few years we've been holding a photographic competition. This year we innovated a bit by presenting the entries online and taking an online vote. This is how we intend to do things from now on as it increases participation.

The results of the vote were published in the July magazine, an electronic version of which is available here: July 2016 magazine

The album that we put together containing your entries is still viewable in 41 Club's Flickr account at this address: <https://flic.kr/s/aHskujhren>

We also select thirteen of your favourite photos to make a calendar, profits from the sale of which are given to the National President's chosen charity.

The 2016 Photographic Competition entries were of a very high standard, making it difficult to choose those that would make it to the short-list. The calendars have now been produced, slightly earlier than usual and in limited numbers.

Get yours now!

Ask your National Councillor for details. Invite him to a club meeting so he can show you what we've done!

Calendars are priced at £5 each, £3 of which goes to President Barry's charity, Shelter.

Also, stay tuned for the 2017 Photographic Competition, which will be kicking off soon!

WHAT'S NEW?

So, what have you been doing lately? Do you have anything interesting planned? Maybe you think that it won't be of any interest to anyone outside of your club, but how will you know unless you say something about it? Try it!

The team that I head is always eager to hear about your events and your projects, and publishing the information here is a good way to garner support for them.

The copy date for the October 2016 edition of this newsletter is September 24th.

IF YOU GO DOWN TO THE WOODS TONIGHT...

Thursday 18th August saw Poynton's 41 club out and about in nearby woodland on yet another programme night for an adventure in wild foraging. The event being well supported by around 15 of us, unfortunately 12 of our number were unable to make it due to prior family or work commitments.

We were greeted by wild food connoisseur and foraging expert James Wood (as seen on BBC's Countryfile) who was to lead us through various food types on our adventure through the woods. First up was 'Chicken in the woods', a large fungus that grows on trees and is used in certain high-end restaurants. Believe it or not, it does have a chicken-like taste to it and can be eaten raw or cooked down (more of that later).

Moving on only a few steps away was the Silver Birch Mushroom (growing on... a Silver Birch!). This has multiple uses; in its young form it is very edible. As it grows it hardens and dries out and becomes far too woody to eat. Instead, other uses include using its skin as a plaster, cutting it through and oiling the surface which in turn can be used to sharpen the old cut throat style of razor. The close-up inspection of such facilitated the clambering up of a ladder and a Cheshire version of piñata.

Moving through the woods past the (still working) water wheel, which powers the cabin, we moved onto Wood Sorrell growing in abundance in the woods (are you seeing a theme here?). It looks like clover but has a lemony zest quality to it and is often used instead of pea shoots by chefs as a garnish. Nettle uses were covered next. They are diverse as it can make tea, fertiliser, string and rope. Being asked to look down again we all picked up dandelion leaves and were told to eat them and to describe how they tasted, but to avoid the white sap. Bitter was how they taste but not as much as Spinach or Cavolo Nero. Again, a salad substitute and quite tasty in salads or an omelette.

Also on offer from James were pickled dandelion heads picked before they opened, diced and left in malt vinegar for a few months. Surprisingly, this closely resembled capers and was delicious. The (pre) dried and roasted root was sampled as a spray, which was very chicory like in flavour, apparently used during the war when there was a shortage of coffee. Passing by a fallen oak we learned all about the use of tannins in the acorns, bark and leaves which, when boiled, becomes a dark inky black and is used to reveal hidden secret messages written onto soldiers during WW1 in invisible ink, believe it or not.

Heading back to the eco cabin (powered by previously mentioned water wheel) we passed a version of cow parsley (the name of which escapes me but no, not Ermintrude, for all those wags out there) which is also edible, the stems can also be cut and pickled (when young), the dried seeds of which were close in taste to cardamom pods but without the overpowering perfume quality attached to them.

James then sliced the chicken in the woods, which was in turn dipped in a Cajun style smoky hot sauce and enjoyed by all as he sorted out a pre-prepared meal of rosehip and beet-root soup cooked over an open fire, served with sour dough bread and sweet breads with various wild seeds in them, which were delicious.

All this was washed down with (quite) a few bottles of home-made strawberry wine, a dozen or so bottles of home-brewed cider and a large stash of a hybrid IPA (all made by various 41 Club members). James himself brought a light ale and a stout made from foraged ingredients along with various jellies and dips to try out. Needless to say, in true 41 club style, the evening broke up when we realised all the food was gone, all the drink was gone and the pubs had long since shut.

A big thanks to the expertise of James Wood who is a mine of information, joined in with all the banter, proving himself to be a fun-guy (get it)!

He is available for bookings throughout the year and can be contacted on totallywildeck@gmail.com, his website is totallywild.co.uk or on his mobile: 07999 992 615

CLASSIC CAR RALLY 2016

All who attended the third annual Classic Rally agreed that it really was a great weekend. This year's event was held in Yeovil, ably organised by Terry and Lin Cooper and their band of dedicated helpers.

It was great to see so many cars (and occupants) arrive that were at previous rallies. The weekend now starts with greetings for old friends and warm welcomes to new ones. It is just like being a member of another 41 Club, but where everybody has a common interest.

The weather was hot and dry even though it had rained on the day before and again the day after. So with three excellent days planned the rally moved effortlessly around the lanes of Somerset (OK a few did get a little lost as satnav had not been invented when most of the cars were built) and we had two great evenings at the Yeovil Court Hotel.

Next year's rally will be held in the North Derbyshire/South Yorkshire area, we already have volunteers for the 2018 rally which will be in Wales and an interest in organising the 2019 event in the Midlands.

So if you have a classic car, van or motorcycle you will be made very welcome at future rallies.

A full report will appear in the November Magazine but in the meantime use this link to view a selection of photographs taken by Alan and Claire Short:

Ray Hill

Northwich 41 Club

On behalf of the Southern Classic Car Rally organising team I would like to thank all of the competitors for joining us in Yeovil and hope that you had as good a time as we did organising the event.

The hotel were excellent and by taking over the venue, except for a couple of rooms, we made it very much our own. The fabulous weather meant we were able to spend most of the time outside either looking at the cars or sitting in the garden, which overlooked the cars anyway.

The visit to Haynes Motor Museum exceeded even our expectations and Clevedon 41 Club member Colin Turton, assisted by Clevedon Tangent member Christine, who organised the day for us did a first class job, thank you guys.

The routes around the Somerset lanes compiled by Clevedon 41 Club Member Wayne Faunt gave just the right mix of testing back lanes with faster A and B roads to stretch the legs of some of the newer cars, thank you Wayne.

The Saturday night Quiz devised and delivered by Clevedon Tangent member Mary Faunt was entertaining and amusing with a good mix of car and general knowledge questions, thank you Mary.

Stuart Fraser from Isis Area 41 Club produced our wonderful Rally Brochure with colour pictures of most of the cars entered, thank you Stuart.

After a "retail" coffee stop on the Sunday morning route the event finished at the Highwayman Inn on the A37 just South of Shepton Mallet for a large carvery lunch after which entrants dispersed for home.

My thanks also go to my lovely wife Lin who, as always, supported me with the administration and detailed organisation of the event. Next year we will be back up North with Ray and Sue Hill at the helm again and then over to Wales as an offer was gratefully received from our Welsh contingent to organise the Rally in 2018.

Looking forward to next year already.

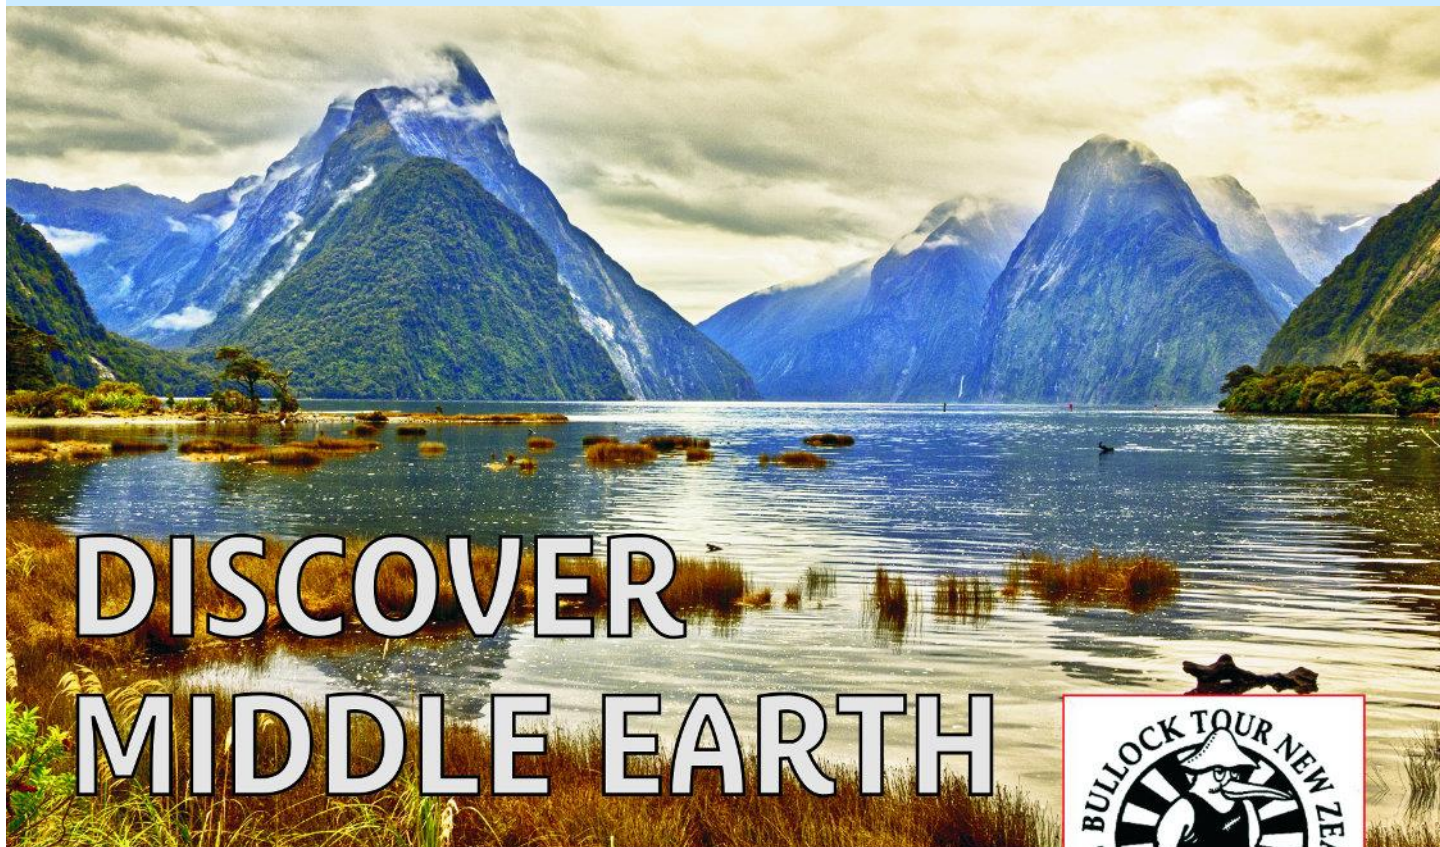

Yours in Continued Friendship,

Terry Cooper

ROUND TABLE NEW ZEALAND TOURS

ROUNDTABLE
NEW ZEALAND

ROUNDTABLETOURSNZ.COM

Welcome to Middle Earth!

Warm greetings from your New Zealand Brothers in the South Pacific, the furthest outpost of Round Table. On the success of this year's Round Table New Zealand 'Nevill Bullock Tour', we invite you to sample the outstanding beauty, high octane activities and friendliness that our country offers.

Our Tour starts in Christchurch on the 26th Feb 2017, travels through McKenzie country past the icy blue glacial waters of Lake Pukaki to Mount Cook, our tallest mountain at 3,724 meters.

The group then moves on to Queenstown, the adventure tourism capital of New Zealand. Experience sky diving, cable cars, luge, jet boats, bungee jumping and paragliding in one cool little town.

Afterward the unspoiled Milford sound National Park awaits. During the tour we stop off at several Round Table clubs, with a chance to socialise over a beer and meet new friends. The magical coastal pacific scenic railway winds up the mountainous coastline to Blenheim. Wine lovers rejoice as we reach the Marlborough region, famous for its never ending vineyards and craft beer industry, Our tour concludes in the city of sails, Auckland. Fifteen days of accommodation, meals, travel and good company for the subsidised price of NZD$1500 (approx. £825). This tour is open to any current Tabler, their partner or 41 Club/Tangent member. As a small national association we appreciate international visitors traveling to our beautiful island, thus keeping us up to date with world-wide Tabling and assisting with our growth. More information at www.roundtabletoursnz.com.

Yours in Table,

Mark Smith

CLASSIC MOTORCYCLE RALLY

Calling all motorcyclists, come and join us in 2017 for the new Classic Motorcycle Rally!

Although the Classic Car Rally incorporates all types of vehicles, we have never had a motorcycle enter the event. So we've decided to hold a new event for motorcycles that will run alongside the car event in 2017.

Although we call these events "Classic", we welcome all types and ages of vehicles including modern classics and cherished. So if you have a motorcycle that falls into any of these categories, which means "almost everything", we would love to see you join us in 2017.

The 2017 event will run as a stand alone Rally but will use the same facilities as the Car Rally and it will take place on the same weekend. However, parts of the event will be different for the motorcyclist to make it a unique experience for each Rally entrant.

More details are to follow so look out for the information but in the meantime go to the back of your garage and dust off that trusty motorcycle then start to get it ready for next year!

Yours in Continued Friendship,

Terry Cooper

Immediate Past National President.

Robin Horsfall shot and killed one of the terrorists when the SAS stormed the Iranian Embassy in 1980.

He served with the SAS during the Falklands war and on subsequent counter-terrorist operations. Like many SAS men he came from the Parachute Regiment, where he served two tours in Northern Ireland, fighting both the IRA and Loyalist terrorists.

From boy soldier to parachutist, SAS man, Dodi Fayed's bodyguard and international mercenary, Robin's career has taken him to the deserts of Oman, the jungles of South America and the African bush.

Now he is coming to Sutton's 50th birthday dinner party to talk about his life and exploits, this is one not to miss!

MEMBER BENEFITS

A question that we often hear is, "What does National do for us? What value do we get for our Capitations?"

Well, technically, that's two questions but their answers can be rolled together into a single response.

You just have to look at this page and the next page. They are crammed full not of advertisements but of schemes that can save you money.

We all like to go on holidays, right? Look below. You can save money on your travel insurance. You can also save on your utility bills with Utility Warehouse, you can save serious money if you're in the market for a new car by using Hyundai's Affinity scheme.

Visit www.41club.org/pages/platinum-privileges for full details of the benefits we provide to our members.

Someone has to go out and look for these deals for you and we have to work with the companies providing them in order to set them all up. A small proportion of your Capitations goes towards securing these offers for you, offers that can save you many times the £14.50 you pay the Association for a year's membership.
