

Supporting children through key adults

Harting School, like many others in West Sussex, have signed up to be part of Operation Encompass. The aim is to support children, in some situations, who have been party to situations at home requiring the police to attend. If you wish for more information please click the link: www.operationencompass.org.