

Experience six unforgettable days of mountain biking in the stunning northern highlands of Ecuador. From the warm, sun-drenched valleys of the Chota region to high-altitude páramos over 4,000 meters, this tour is a playground for passionate riders who crave enduro, downhill, and pure adventure.

The north of Ecuador offers a unique variety of MTB terrains—flowing trails through cloud forests, rugged volcanic landscapes, arid highland deserts, and technical descents that will push your skills to the limit. Each ride delivers a new backdrop, a new challenge, and breathtaking views around every corner.

Alongside the riding, immerse yourself in the vibrant local culture, traditional villages, and unforgettable Andean scenery. This is more than just a tour—it's a journey across altitudes, ecosystems, and adrenaline-packed trails that you'll remember for a lifetime.

