Description

Caxton Works is the beating heart of a redeveloped two-acre site in Canning Town masterminded by architect Studio Egret West. Caxton Works is a sustainable commercial quarter with a range of businesses consisting of thirteen units at ground and mezzanine levels.

Hoy Street, which runs between the North and South blocks which creates a community feel and drives footfall to local businesses. Caxton Works has attracted a number of exciting tenants to the estate including Golden Cradle nursery, Myma Japanese restaurant, Rise Climbing (wall climbing), Ice cream maker & parlour (Brass Monkey), dog care (Tongues & Tails), a health charity (Care in Mind) and Luv Yourself (yoga and wellness).

Location

The Canning Town area is undergoing significant regeneration led by numerous high-rise residential schemes with ground floor commercial elements.

Canning Town station is within a 5 minute walk providing Jubilee Line and DLR access whilst the newly opened Elizabeth Line can be accessed from the nearby London Excel centre which is a 15 minute walk that also provides access to the Emirates Air Line cable car.

Got a taste for adventure? Enjoy a post-work swim in London Royal Docks – the most iconic outdoor swimming spot in the world.

Or if you prefer retail therapy to open water, you're just a short trip from Stratford's Westfield shopping Centre, which houses just about every shop you could ever need to visit.

Journey times from Custom House, Elizabeth Line to Canary Wharf 5 mins, Liverpool Street 8 mins, Bond Street 20 mins.
