Location

Churchfield Farm is an established and highly regarded rural business environment, offering occupiers a peaceful and professional setting just a short distance from the thriving market town of Oundle.

Oundle is renowned for its attractive streetscape, independent retailers, cafés and amenities, providing an excellent nearby amenity base for staff and clients alike. The setting offers an appealing alternative to traditional town centre or business park offices, promoting a better work-life balance while maintaining strong connectivity.

The property is conveniently positioned off Harley Way, a short reach from the A605 which offers excellent road connectivity, linking directly to the A1 to the north and the A14 / A45 to the south, providing efficient routes across the region.

The city of Peterborough lies approximately 10 miles away and offers direct mainline rail services to London King's Cross in under an hour, making the property well-suited for businesses with regional or national reach.

DESCRIPTION

Simmons Barn comprises a characterful yet highly functional, self-contained office suite, set within the attractive rural surroundings of Churchfield Farm. This beautifully converted barn offers a unique blend of period charm and modern specification, providing an inspiring working environment for a wide range of occupiers.

Arranged over a single floor, the accommodation is thoughtfully configured to support both collaborative and private working. The barn offers an open plan office space with a separate office at one end alongside a well-appointed kitchen and WC facilities at the other.

The suite benefits from a modern specification including comfort cooling and heating, high-speed internet connectivity, and is presented in a condition ready for immediate occupation.

For occupiers with larger requirements, there is the opportunity to expand into the neighbouring Granary suite, offering flexibility to grow or establish a larger headquarters-style office presence.
