Description

The substantial former house was constructed in 1878 and was subsequently used as a hospital and more recently, a headquarters office building.

The Grade II Listed building is set over ground and first floors, incorporating offices, canteen, library, conference rooms and stores. The building is currently configured to provide continued office use but could be altered to accommodate a range of future uses.

Externally there are significant landscaped grounds and gardens, with car parking to the front of the building.

In addition to the measured areas listed, there is a basement and second floor attic space, with a restricted access and head height which have not been included.

The building and grounds are accessed via a shared driveway. An estate service charge may be levied to contribute to the upkeep and maintenance of the shared access, to be defined as part of the sale.

Location

Ty'n y Coed is located between Llandudno and Deganwy off Pentywyn Road, which runs adjacent to the A470. The property sits within substantial landscaped grounds, access off a private driveway shared with neighbouring occupiers.

The building site is located off the Conwy Junction of the North Wales expressway at J19.
