This is a tenancy agreement, please read in conjunction with our tenant's guide, which further explain your legal responsibilities. On the day of sign up there is limited time available; therefore, it is essential that you discuss any details or concerns prior to this date.

Every tenant must attend the signing of the contract

IMPORTANT

- This agreement contains the terms and obligations of the tenancy. It sets out the promises made by the landlord to the tenant and by the tenant to the landlord. These promises will be legally binding once the agreement has been signed by both parties and then dated. You should read it carefully to ensure it contains everything you want and nothing that you are not prepared to agree to. Whilst every attempt has been made to compose this agreement using plain and intelligible language, it inevitably contains some legal terms or references.

If any party does not understand this agreement, or anything in it, it is essential that they ask for an explanation before signing it. They might also consider consulting a solicitor, the Citizens Advice Bureau or a Housing Advice Centre.

By entering into this agreement, the Tenants acknowledge receipt of the "How to Rent Guide" and the documents referred to in that important document. The Landlord or the Agent have provided the Tenants with the Governments "How to Rent" Guide, and copies of the EPC, EICR, and Gas Safety certificate. The Landlord or the Agent will provide a copy of the deposit registration certificate in due course.

DefinitionsAssured Shorthold Tenancy Agreement*DEFINITIONS

The intention of providing this list of definitions is to help explain or clarify some terms or expressions that may be found in this tenancy agreement. It is not meant to be an exhaustive or complete list. In the event of a dispute, only a court can decide on a definitive interpretation or meaning of any clause, or of any part of this agreement.

The premises	The premises include all, or any parts of the dwelling-house, gardens, paths, fences, boundaries or other outbuildings which form part of the let. Where the premises form only part of another property (e.g., in a block of flats), the letting includes the use, in common with others, of communal access ways and other similar facilities.
Landlord	A person or persons who at any relevant time own, or have a formal interest in, the premises that give them the right to possession of the premises.
Tenant	A person, or persons, who at any relevant time are entitled to occupy the premises under the terms of this tenancy agreement. A Lead Tenant must be designated at the beginning of the tenancy.
Joint and several liability	The expression joint and several liability means that jointly the tenants are liable for the payment of all rents and all liabilities falling upon the tenants during the tenancy as well as any breach of the Agreement. Individually each tenant is responsible for payment of all rent and all liabilities falling upon the tenant as well as any breach of the Agreement until all payments have been made in full. A maximum of four people can be such joint tenants.
Superior landlord	People, or persons, to whom the ownership or interest in the Leasehold premises might revert in the fullness of time, following the expiry of the term of any head, or superior, lease.
Head or Superior lease	Means a Lease (if any) under which the landlord himself holds or owns the premises and which contains the obligations of which the landlord, or his tenants, in turn, may be bound.
Fixtures and fittings	References to fixtures and fittings relate to any of the landlord's furniture, furnishings, sanitary ware, decorative features, white goods, other equipment or any floor, ceiling or wall coverings and include anything listed in any Inventory and/or Schedule of Condition supplied.
The term of the tenancy	References to the term of the tenancy include any extension or continuation, or any statutory periodic tenancy which may arise following the end of the period set out in clause 1.9
(security) Deposit	The deposit will be sent by the landlord or agent to a statutory scheme that will safeguard it for the duration of the Tenancy. At the end of the tenancy, the two parties to the tenancy agreement should jointly agree on the apportionment of any deductions from the deposit, e.g., for costs or compensation for damage, or for breaches of, or failure to comply with, the tenant's obligations. Any portion in dispute will not be paid to either party until or unless a mutual agreement is reached. In the event that mutual agreement cannot be found, the ADR procedure will be initiated in accordance with the rules of the scheme. Further information is available on request. (www.depositprotection.com).
Consent of the landlord or his agent	Where the consent of the Landlord or his Agent is required for the tenant to carry out some action it is strongly recommended that where such consent is granted, the tenant obtain confirmation in writing so as to avoid misunderstandings or disputes at a later date.
Water charges	This includes charges, rates or costs relating to water, sewerage and environmental services
Utilities	This includes charges, rates or costs relating to telephone, gas, electricity, oil and Council Tax.
Stamp Duty Land Tax	Following changes, which came into force on 1st December 2003, the responsibility for paying any Stamp Duty Land Tax (SDLT) that might be due on a tenancy agreement, is solely the tenants. This is a legal obligation, and the Inland Revenue may impose fines or penalties for failure to comply. The calculation of the liability for duty on rent over the relevant threshold is subject to a number of factors and calculations. More information and guidance can be obtained from either www.arla.co.uk or www.inlandrevenue.gov.uk .
Masculine & feminine & singular & plural	Any reference to either one gender includes the other and any reference in the singular shall include the plural, if appropriate.

Such a document may subsequently be relied upon at the end of the tenancy in assessing damage or compensation for damage (over and above fair wear & tear) and so should be checked carefully at the commencement of the tenancy. Any significant mistakes, misdescriptions or other amendments should be notified to the landlord or his agent as soon as practicable after the tenancy starts. In order to avoid misunderstandings or disputes later, it is strongly recommended that this notification is in writing and a copy kept for future reference.

5. GENERAL ALL PARTIES TO THIS AGREEMENT SHOULD READ THESE CLAUSES

Re-instatement of property rendered uninhabitable

- 5.1 The landlord's repairing obligations referred to in clause 3.3 shall not be construed as requiring the landlord to (a) carry out works or repairs for which the tenant is liable by virtue of his duty to use the premises in a tenant-like manner; (b) to rebuild or reinstate the premises in the case of destruction or damage by fire or by tempest, flood or other inevitable accident; or (c) to keep in repair or maintain anything which the tenant is entitled to remove from the premises.
- 5.2 The Contract (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 does not apply to this agreement.
- 5.3 This agreement is subject to all laws and statutes affecting assured shorthold tenancies. If a court decides that some part of the agreement is invalid or unenforceable, the rest of the agreement will still be valid and binding on all parties.

Service of Notices etc. by the Landlord or Agent

- 5.4 In accordance with section 1962 of the Law of Property Act 1925 as amended by the Recorded Delivery Service Act 1962; if the landlord or his agent delivers a Notice or document (and retains reasonable evidence of that delivery) required to be served under this agreement or any Act of Parliament, to the premises (or the last known address of the tenant if different) by hand or sends it by recorded or registered delivery or by first class post, addressed to the tenant then the tenant will be treated as though they have received it.

Surrender of the tenancy by the tenant

- 5.5 Strictly with the landlord's or their agents' prior written consent and subject to certain conditions that may include the landlord's reasonable costs associated with the re-letting of the premises, the tenant might be allowed to surrender or give up this tenancy before it could otherwise lawfully be ended.

Stamp Duty Land Tax

- 5.6 The tenant will be responsible for assessing their liability, if any and at any time, for Stamp Duty Land Tax (SDLT) and for submitting the appropriate forms and payment to the Inland Revenue.

• FORFEITURE - RIGHT OF RE-ENTRY

Important If either party to this agreement are unsure of their rights or require further clarification of this clause, they should consult a solicitor or their local Citizens Advice Bureau.

The law (Protection from Eviction Act 1977) gives tenants protection against arbitrary or immediate termination of their rights of occupation and the law restricts a landlord's rights, except in certain circumstances, to evict from, or prevent a tenant from living in, premises subject to an existing tenancy agreement without first obtaining a court order.

For the landlord to commence legal proceedings to repossess the premises based on a breach of the tenancy (where the tenant had failed to remedy the breach in good time), which might result in the court evicting the tenant or issuing a court order terminating the tenancy earlier than might otherwise be lawful; the law requires that the tenancy agreement contains a Forfeiture clause, sometimes referred to as a Right of Re-entry. Clause 5.7 is such a clause.

For the avoidance of doubt: - In order to exercise his legal rights under this clause, 5.7, a landlord will first need to obtain a court order

5.7 If at any time the rent, or any part of the rent, shall remain unpaid for 14 days after becoming due, whether formally demanded or not, or if any major agreement or major obligation on the tenant's part is not complied with, or if any of the circumstances mentioned in the following Grounds.

Ground 8. (that both at the time of notice of the intention to commence proceedings and at the time of the court proceedings there is (a) at least eight weeks rent unpaid where rent is payable weekly or fortnightly; (b) at least two months rent is unpaid if rent is payable monthly; (c) at least one quarters rent is more than three months in arrears if rent is payable quarterly; (c) at least three months rent is more than three months in arrears if rent is payable yearly), as set out in Part I of Schedule 2 to the Housing Act 1988 (as amended by the Housing Act 1996) or, Ground 10. (that both at the time of notice of the intention to commence proceedings and at the time of the court proceedings there is some rent outstanding),

Ground 11. (that there is a history of persistently being behind with rent),

Ground 12. (that the tenant has broken one or more of his obligations under the tenancy agreement),

Ground 13. (that the condition of the premises or the common parts has deteriorated because of the behaviour of the tenant, or any other person living there),

Ground 14. (that the tenant or someone living or visiting the premises has been guilty of conduct which is, or is likely to cause, a nuisance or annoyance to neighbours; Or, that a person residing or visiting the premises has been convicted of using the premises, or allowing it to be used, for immoral or illegal purposes or has committed an arrestable offence in or in the locality of, the premises),

Ground 15. (that the condition of the furniture has deteriorated because it has been ill-treated by the tenant or someone living at the premises),

Ground 17. (that the landlord was induced to grant the tenancy by a false statement made knowingly or recklessly by either the tenant or a person acting at the tenant's instigation), as set out in Part II of Schedule 2 to the Housing Act 1988 (as amended by the Housing Act 1996) shall arise, then the landlord may re-enter the property and the tenancy shall be terminated. Any such action will not restrict or limit any other legal rights, which the landlord may have in pursuing the tenant for breaches of the tenant's obligations under this agreement.

6. DATA PROTECTION & CONFIDENTIALITY

6.1 Letting agents may share details about the performance of obligations under this agreement by the landlord and tenant; past, present and future known addresses of the parties, with each other, with credit and reference providers for referencing purposes and rental decisions; with Utility and Water Companies, local authority Council Tax and Housing Benefit departments, Mortgage lenders, to help prevent dishonesty, for administrative and accounting purposes, or for occasional debt tracing and fraud prevention. Under the Data Protection Act 1998 you are entitled, on payment of a fee which will be no greater than that set by statute, to see a copy of personal information held about you and to have it amended if it is shown to be incorrect.

7. SIGNATURES of the PARTIES

IMPORTANT

This agreement contains the terms and obligations of the tenancy. It sets out the promises made by the landlord to the tenant and by the tenant to the landlord. These promises will be legally binding once the agreement has been signed by both parties and then dated. You should read it carefully to ensure it contains everything you want and nothing that you are not prepared to agree to. Whilst every attempt has been made to compose this agreement using plain and intelligible language, it inevitably contains some legal terms or references. If either party does not understand this agreement or anything in it, it is strongly suggested you ask for an explanation before signing it. You might consider consulting a solicitor, Citizens Advice Bureau or Housing Advice Centre.

The terms and conditions of this agreement include those special or additional clauses (if any) set out in section 7 overleaf.
