LINK WITH BECKYARD

Image to right shows public realm to rear elevation of Midland Mill & north elevation of BeckYard tower

The neighbouring scheme has been designed to integrate with the Sky Gardens / Midland Mills scheme in order to add to the sense of community and connectivity between residential blocks in the area.

The ability for pedestrians and cyclists to move freely between the buildings is integral to the ethos of placemaking.

THE OPPORTUNITY

Opportunity to join and enhance a growing destination within South Bank and become a standout occupier in a growing and evolving district.

With approximately 5,000 sq ft of commercial space located on the ground floor of Midland Mills, the building has been sensitively restored and is rich in industrial heritage. The unit can be configured to suit a wide range of concepts.

The flexible layout and multiple access points present an ideal opportunity to accommodate complementary uses, encouraging footfall and creating a vibrant destination. The setting lends itself particularly well to experiential and lifestyle-led occupiers.

Potential uses include:

- ◇ A destination restaurant, café or bar with outdoor courtyard seating – speciality coffee
- ◇ Microbrewery with tap room, wine bar or food hall / market concept
- ◇ Bespoke gym, boutique fitness and wellbeing studio + wellness-led concept such as a spa, recovery studio or holistic health hub + HYROX / Cross Fit style gym (STP)

Alternatively (STP), the unit offers the flexibility to be subdivided into a curated collection of smaller spaces, creating a vibrant, community-led destination within Midland Mills.

- ◇ Creative studios and makers' workshops (pottery, jewellery, crafts)
- ◇ Independent retail (florist, houseplants, homewares, gifts)
- ◇ Health-led food concepts (acai, poke, juice bars) – or incorporated into the wellbeing hubs
- ◇ Boutique operators (tattoo, piercing, wellness)
- ◇ Gallery or exhibition space
- ◇ Natural wine bar or deli café
