Heart of the city

CENTENARY SQUARE

Baskerville House fronts Centenary Square, one of the principal public squares in the city centre, a key focal point for leisure, retail and commercial space within the Birmingham city core.

Centenary Square includes 43 lighting columns and a striking 5cm deep pool with water jets which can be drained for event space, providing an attractive civic space in the heart of one of the city's commercial and cultural hotspots.

Its updated design includes a grid of columns to provide light and event infrastructure as well as a centrepiece for the square, a range of over 50 newly planted trees including maple, ginkgo, cherry and birch, a new granite paving surface and a stunning mirror pool water feature.

Centenary Square provides a natural open space and centre for significant activity within the heart of the city.

LIBRARY OF BIRMINGHAM / ICC

The £189m Library of Birmingham is one of the city's centres for academic research and is home to an internationally important collection of rare books, archived material and photography, which attracts around 316,000 visitors every year.

The ICC, which also incorporates the Symphony Hall, is one of Europe's most high profile conference centres, with over 400 events and 350,000 delegates from around the world every year.

"The largest public cultural space in Europe"

THE EXCHANGE, UNIVERSITY OF BIRMINGHAM

In September 2021, the University of Birmingham opened The Exchange at Arena Central.

The Grade II listed building was originally founded as the Birmingham Municipal Bank and now, as the University's new city hub, it connects the research, teaching and local, national and international networks to bring together communities and the public, private and third sectors with a brand new venue for conferences and events form part of the plans for the building.

"A community research and education hub with performance space and on-site amenities"

PARADISE

Paradise is delivering a new £1.2bn mixed use development with eight new buildings - the first two of which have created a professional and financial services hub with PwC in One Chamberlain Square and DLA Piper, Knights Plc, Mazars and Atkins at Two Chamberlain Square.

With four office buildings and one residential now complete at Paradise, further Blue Chip occupiers like Goldman Sachs and Arup have taken space at One Centenary Way, while EY has signed up to the newly completed Three Chamberlain Square. The Octagon, the city's highest building and the tallest pure octagonal residential tower in the world, also completed in 2025.

"8 new buildings combining retail, leisure and commercial space"

ARENA CENTRAL

Directly opposite Baskerville House is Arena Central, a 9.2 acre mixed use development which is home to the HQ for HSBC personal and business banking operations, the HMRC HQ and the new multi-functional building for the University of Birmingham, The Exchange.

The development also has the four-star deluxe Crowne Plaza hotel and 250 room Holiday Inn Express as well as two Dandara residential towers, with 322 apartments fronting Suffolk Street Queensway.

"A 1.2 million sq ft mixed-use development set within a new public realm"

Built around quality and wellbeing

Quality runs throughout Baskerville House, which has been designed to an exceptional Grade A standard and specification to match its stunning exterior.

The refurbishment at Baskerville House has seen various enhancements to the interior of the building to create a high quality environment which can compete with any office building in the city centre.

Featuring a glazed atria from the second to the sixth floor, full air conditioning via chilled ceilings and beams and suspended ceilings with enhanced LED lighting, Baskerville House provides an enjoyable and well equipped workplace, which is key to retaining staff and having a happy workforce.

Cycle storage and shower facilities have also been enhanced to offer occupiers the chance to cycle to work, and the building is surrounded by a number of pedestrian walkways offering easy access around the city centre.

A number of enhanced breakout areas have been incorporated into the design of the building, designed to give staff a place to unwind and think away from the busy office environment, while staff also have access to a self-service coffee point.
