Location

Located on the edge of Guildford; an affluent Home County on the Southern edge of London. The subject property is situated within Wood Street suburb of Guildford due West of the town, also being a short drive from Ash, Tongham, Aldershot and Badshot Lea. A relatively green area, with Hankely Common, Surrey Hills and various farms also situated nearby. The premises benefit from a large garden to the rear and a free public car park is situated close to the unit.

Description

A public house situated in the centre of Wood Street Village, this two-storey standalone building benefits from a large open plan bar/seating area upon entry, with male and female WC units to the rear, a fully fitted bar with lines fitted linking to a large room for barrels at the rear still in place, along with a kitchen also at the back with extraction fitted.

Upstairs is a three-bedroom apartment with appropriate bathroom and living room. To the rear a large garden area for use both of the owner-occupier and customers is accessible from the side of the premises, with a car park to the front for the use of customers, along with scope for additional signage.
