

Office building for sale

The office building was used by a consulting company, but became redundant and is now offered for sale. The building was originally designed by the well-respected Makovecz Architecture Office. It was also used as the headquarters of one of the most famous Hungarian media outlets, HVG. The asset is located in one of Budapest's most prestigious neighbourhoods, in the immediate vicinity of the Hegyvidék Shopping Center, in a quiet but easily accessible environment.
