Description

The property comprises a mid-terraced, timber framed two story Grade II listed property with a painted rendered exterior finish beneath a pantile roof.

The ground floor benefits from period features including timber beams and a timber staircase located centrally within the retail space. There is part painted part wallpapered walls, carpeted flooring, fluorescent tube lighting, electric wall heater, a small sink area which has been built within a cupboard space, single glazed sash windows and access to a cellar.

There is first floor space which is over two levels with small steps between and comprised as two private rooms with a central office/reception space. Again, there are several period features on display including timber beaming and fire places. The WC is located at first floor level. The specification is like that of the ground floor. The second floor is accessed via a staircase and would be suitable for storage.

Location

The subject property is located in a prominent position, close to the junction of Angel Hill and Northgate Street. It is in close proximity to the Abbey Gardens and Cathedral. Surrounding occupiers include a mix of retailers, offices, cafes and restaurants.

Bury St Edmunds is an attractive and affluent market town in West Suffolk. It has a thriving local economy and is supported by an active and busy tourist industry.
