Description

The property comprises an attractive Grade II listed freehold office building providing 2,716 sq ft over the ground and four upper floors, available with vacant possession.

The well-presented accommodation combines generous ceiling heights, period detailing and bay windows providing good natural light. A mixture of individual offices and larger team rooms is complemented by meeting space, kitchen and breakout facilities, together with WCs on several floors.

The arrangement would particularly suit an established professional practice or creative business seeking its own premises, with space to accommodate client meetings, private offices and separate teams within one building.

Rear parking is accessed from Circus Street and accommodates up to six vehicles in tandem, subject to vehicle size and configuration.

Location

The property occupies a prominent position on the eastern side of Grand Parade, close to its junction with Circus Street and within easy walking distance of Brighton city centre.

The surrounding area accommodates a mix of commercial, educational and residential uses, with the Circus Street development immediately to the east. The North Laine, Royal Pavilion, city-centre shopping areas and seafront are all readily accessible, providing a wide choice of cafés, restaurants and amenities for staff and visiting clients.

Grand Parade is served by numerous bus routes and forms part of a principal route through the city towards Lewes Road and the A27. Brighton Railway Station is within walking distance, providing connections to London, Gatwick Airport and destinations along the South Coast.

The location combines a visible business address with convenient access to the wider city centre.
