

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
TOWN HALL,
LIMERICK.

8th February, 1971.

The fiftieth anniversary of the deaths of Seoirse Clancy, Michael O'Callaghan and Joseph O'Donoghue will occur on March 7th next. On that day, ceremonies to commemorate their deaths and those of all the men of Limerick city and county who died in the War of Independence will take place in the city.

I am anxious that all organised bodies should be represented at the functions and shall be grateful if you will arrange to send a representative to a meeting in the County Courthouse on Monday, 15th February at 7.30 p.m.

JOSEPH P. LIDDY,

MAYOR OF LIMERICK.
