

CPMG is offering an excellent opportunity for a talented architect to work in our London office.

You will be working closely with our London director, working across multiple sectors and RIBA stages, from feasibility /design through to the delivery stages of projects.

You will also be responsible for promoting the growth of the business and you will be encouraged to attend appropriate networking events with this aim in mind.

Located in Farringdon, our workload is growing in education, health, conservation commercial fit-out and industrial sectors, representing an exciting opportunity to join a forward-thinking, people-focused practice.
