By continuing to use this website you agree that GnERGY can place cookies and other similar technology on your device.

By continuing to use your device to access this website, you agree that the following information is collected: IP address, date time, request information.

What are cookies

Cookies are text files containing small amounts of information which are downloaded to your computer or mobile device when you visit a site and allow a site to recognise your device.

Why GnERGY uses cookies and similar technologies

Cookies do a lot of different jobs, such as letting you navigate between pages efficiently, remembering your preferences and generally improving the user experience. They can also help to ensure that the advertisements you see online are more relevant to you and your interests.

Does GnERGY use cookies for analytics

Some cookies we use are from Google. Google Analytics cookies enable GnERGY to measure how you interact with the website. These cookies do not collect personal data. All information these cookies collect is anonymous and is only used to improve how this website works.

What types of cookies are there and which ones does the site use

A list of all the cookies used on this Site by category is set out below. Within these two categories below, cookies are classified as either session or persistent cookies.

Session cookies are temporary and once you close the browser window, they are deleted from your device.

Persistent cookies remain on your device for a longer period and are used by the website to recognise your device when you return.
