EVER WANTED A SIMPLE, YET INTELLIGENT, WAY TO GIVE YOUR SENIOR LEADERS ACCESS TO HIGH-END LEARNING AND LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT?

The Henley Partnership is exactly that – a partnership between Henley Business School and our deliberately diverse corporate members. Together, we create and design an ongoing programme for your board, directors and senior managers. One simple, annual, membership fee provides access to a year-long calendar of masterclass events, on the topics and business issues our members tell us matter most to them.

Bringing the best business brains from Henley Business School and our network, we provide a balance of themed learning, masterclass events and peer networking.

Some of our members we work with:

- Allianz Insurance
- BBC
- BMS
- Boden
- Bunzl
- Costain
- CTIL
- Hamptons International
- Heathrow Airport
- Housing & Care 21
- Hovis
- Invesco Perpetual
- Lonza
- LeasePlan UK
- Moy Park
- NFU Mutual
- Neopost
- Pernod Ricard
- QinetiQ
- Resource Solutions
- River Island
- SAP
- SAS Software
- ScottishPower
- The Rank Group
- The Restaurant Group
- University of Reading
- Zurich

Key benefits for you and your organisation:

- Attend over 30 events per year
- Gain access to top academics and industry specialists
- Join a diverse network with over 25 companies focused on today’s business priorities
- Input into the annual event calendar - members shape the content of events
- Debate and discuss critical business issues with other senior leaders, share experience and gain best practice
We wanted to complement our talent management offering by giving members of our UK leadership talent pool the opportunity to update themselves on a number of relevant business and leadership topics. We were also very interested in providing an external networking opportunity through The Henley Partnership events which we find to be very important for the personal development of our leaders. Attending these workshops and events, they have been able to work alongside practitioners, experts and faculty at Henley Business School. This has provided them with new ideas and inspiration that they have brought back into our organisation.

We were looking for an opportunity to challenge our senior leaders and to give them some valuable time and space to think, as well as to broaden their network. The subjects covered have challenged them to think differently about their leadership, especially in times of change. Our leaders returned feeling ‘invested in’ and keen to apply both the knowledge and the theory.

The Henley Partnership is exactly that – a partnership between businesses and an extremely well regarded business school.

The calendar provides a flexible, accessible resource for teams with often different and changing needs. Each event can be attended as a stand-alone experience or combined with others to create a personal ongoing development programme. This flexible approach allows members to top up skills and learning by embedding a straightforward and cost effective approach to their development as leaders.

As a member you will engage with speakers on hot topics, key business issues, leadership development and business skills.

Examples of 2017 calendar of one day master class events include:

- The Language of Leadership
- Building a Customer-Centric Organisation
- Being a Manager and a Coach
- Gravitas - The Art and Science of Grace Under Fire
- Personal and Organisational Resilience
- Creating Contagious Commitment During Change
- Expanding Your Leadership Repertoire
- Thinking Ahead About People
- Demystifying Strategic Thinking
- Culture - the What, the How, the Me

Membership of The Henley Partnership is by application and we ensure the Partnership represents a diverse range of industries. We know it’s not just about the topics and our faculty – our members value the time to share experience and best practice with their peers, debating the issues with senior leaders from other organisations and sectors.
