The Master's Duty is to make Your Hrudaya Chakra Stronger

There are only three persons: Mother, Father, Master. These three persons on the planet are always thinking about you and your success, and your happiness and your growth. A master always feels proud, when the students are getting success, if they're growing more.

The master's duty is to make your hrudaya chakra stronger. If you hook one time to the master with your pure heart, that's it. Your master, his body and soul are having some special capability in this nature. You can't vision the whole nature. In the nature you are taking a small seed, your master. 'The master' means it's a point, just a point - a dot. From there you are sucking everything. From there, you can create everything. Through the master's structure the cosmic energy is coming in you.

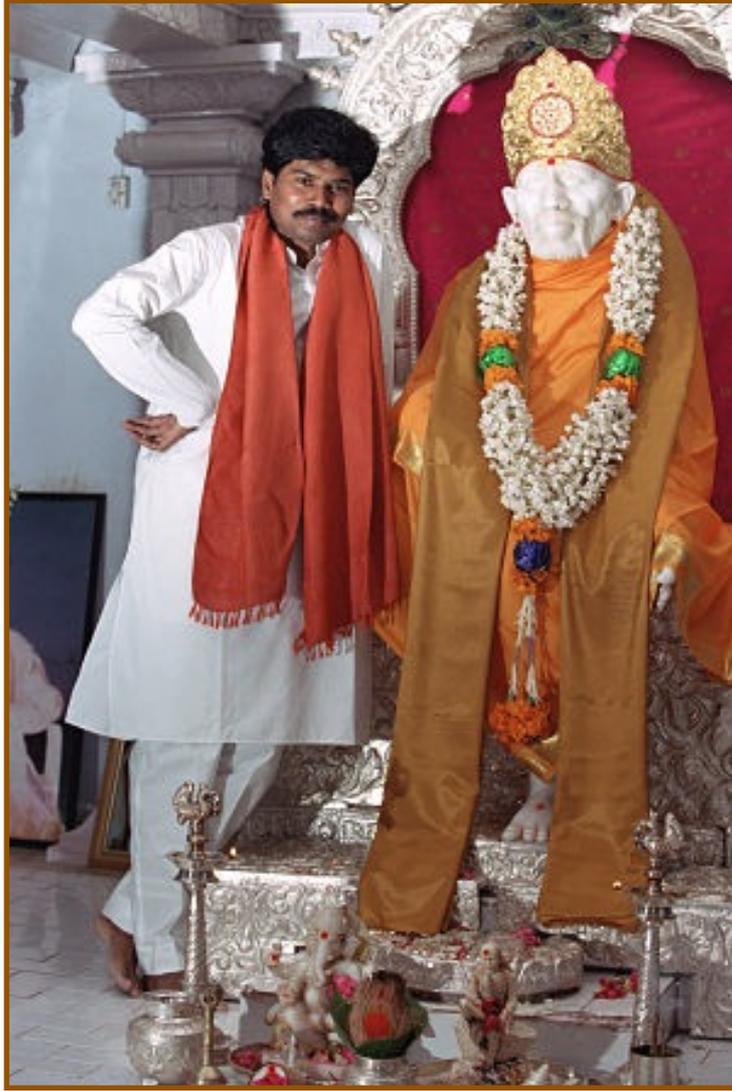

Through your heart's hooking, your Swami's energy and your energy are melting completely together. I'm talking only about souls, not about bodies. Atma is soul. Sam means evenness. Yoga means union. Atma Sam Yoga stage means two souls are melting to seem like one, but the illusion shows you it's not one.

In Atma Sam Yogam, even if you are putting the masters statue in your home, but the energy is coming to you from the nature, through the masters structure. You might think, 'Swami is treating Baba's statue as a kind of human form there'. Yes. It's a thousand times more powerful than the human body there. So, having that attachment, that fragrance, is another part of union.

Baba always says: 'If you look at me, I'll look at you. Looking with your heart to me very deeply and keeping me dearly in your heart, then I start to work on you. Otherwise no chance.'

What I'm really expecting from you, just simply your love and surrender. 'Master' does not mean only me; it's the Guru Parampara.
