City food markets attract us for their colors, liveliness, people, sounds and taste. Close contact with food whets our appetite and triggers our taste buds. At the markets we meet ordinary people and discover the food they eat, as well as producers who show us what the region can offer. Budapest, Vienna, Torino, Lyon and Barcelona all have a bustling central food market.

In the Belly of the City explores these markets, their products, their people.

TURIN | PORTA PALAZZO by Stefano Tealdi

At Europe's biggest open air market there is a world to discover! Torino's Porta Palazzo is a reverberating hub full of colours and people. Our journey takes us from the region's finest cherry trees that become the city's tastiest gelato to unearthing the region's finest cheeses and meat recipes! If you start to lick the screen don't panic...

BUDAPEST | KÖZPONTI VÁSÁRCSARNOK by Bojána Papp & Stefano Tealdi

The largest indoor market in Budapest is also the most elegant in Europe! Spanning over three levels the impressive central food market is long recognized as a marvel. Whether it be the freshest fish, the richest goose liver or sweetest paprika that you're looking for, you'll find it. But don't forget the basement: this is where you will find the very best pickled cabbage in the country!

LYON | CROIX ROUSSE by Stefano Tealdi

A natural haven of tasty delights and local delicacies, the Croix Rousse is Lyon's market gem. From goat farms where the region's most delicious cheeses are contrived to bakeries that produce only organic bread. This episode comes with a warning, be prepared to get very hungry indeed!

BARCELONA | LA BOQUERIA by Andrea Ferrando & Stefano Tealdi

An enchanting city, Barcelona is brimming with inspirations left by the greatest of artists. But this charming city has another jewel in its crown - La Boqueria food market. Take a journey through the senses with our lively characters and uncover their gastronomic secrets.

VIENNA | NASCHMARKT by Michael Seeber & Stefano Tealdi

Lying in the culinary heart of Vienna like an island, a little world of treats rises in the midst: the Naschmarkt food market. A throng of buyers and curious onlookers meander through the stalls all consumed by the scent of spices, distracted by the smell of sausage and stunned by the diversity of turnips, tubers, foliage and fruit on display. The Naschmarkt truly is Vienna's most trendy belly.
