

4th September 2020

Hi,

It's a new term and a very different one to what we are used to!

We know that getting your younger pupils back into a routine and engaged with learning after a strange 6 months is going to be a challenge for you, but we're sure we can help you get your class and your school excited to write!

We have been working hard to create the enclosed An Acrostic For You poetry resources, which your pupils will love! We've had parents and teachers tell us lockdown has brought the kinder, more thoughtful side out in children, An Acrostic For You is a great way to explore these traits and create something imaginative and heartfelt.

There's an optional lesson plan (with four levels of differentiation) and presentation available online at www.youngwriters.co.uk/acrostics-for-you so you can easily adapt the resources to your learners' needs... There's even an online Pupil Writing Portal in case home learning is needed again, we've tried to cover all bases for you!

If that's not made you want to take part, then the prizes might! The Young Writers' Award of Excellence and a selection of books for the best school (plus two runners-up prizes too) and 10 little poets will each win themselves a goody bag.

Everything you need to take part is enclosed. Call, email or go online to request more free entry forms so all your 5-7 year-olds can get involved and learn to love poetry all over again. We're only a phone call or email away if you have any questions.

I can't wait to read about who or what has inspired your pupils' acrostics!

Best wishes

Editorial Manager

P.S. Don't forget to pop the closing date of 23rd October in your diary... and check out Peculiar Pets at our website, purrfect for 7-11 year-olds!
