Why Choose BPP for ACCA?

BPP is a 38-year old company. It was established in 1976 in the UK to provide high quality training and development to professionals working in different areas. In the following years the company expanded around the world.

At present, BPP Professional Education is an accredited organization providing targeted courses and study materials for ACCA and other qualifications. BPP Learning Media is the only printing house worldwide, which has achieved the highest Platinum publisher status approved by ACCA. BPP is the first UK private sector organisation to be recognised as a university by the UK Government.

Today, we are proud to be the trainer of choice for multinational companies and increasingly for small- and medium sized companies as well.

Each session, the pass rates of our students are consistently higher than the global average pass rates. Passing exams at first attempt helps you qualify in 2 to 3 years.

Our courses are split into taught and revision phases to allow you enough time to absorb information before practicing exam questions

The revision courses deliver exam techniques and build skills to pass from first attempt.

Access to BPP Tutor so you can obtain clarification when needed

Feedback report, prepared by your tutor and giving you hints how to progress during the days immediately before the exam

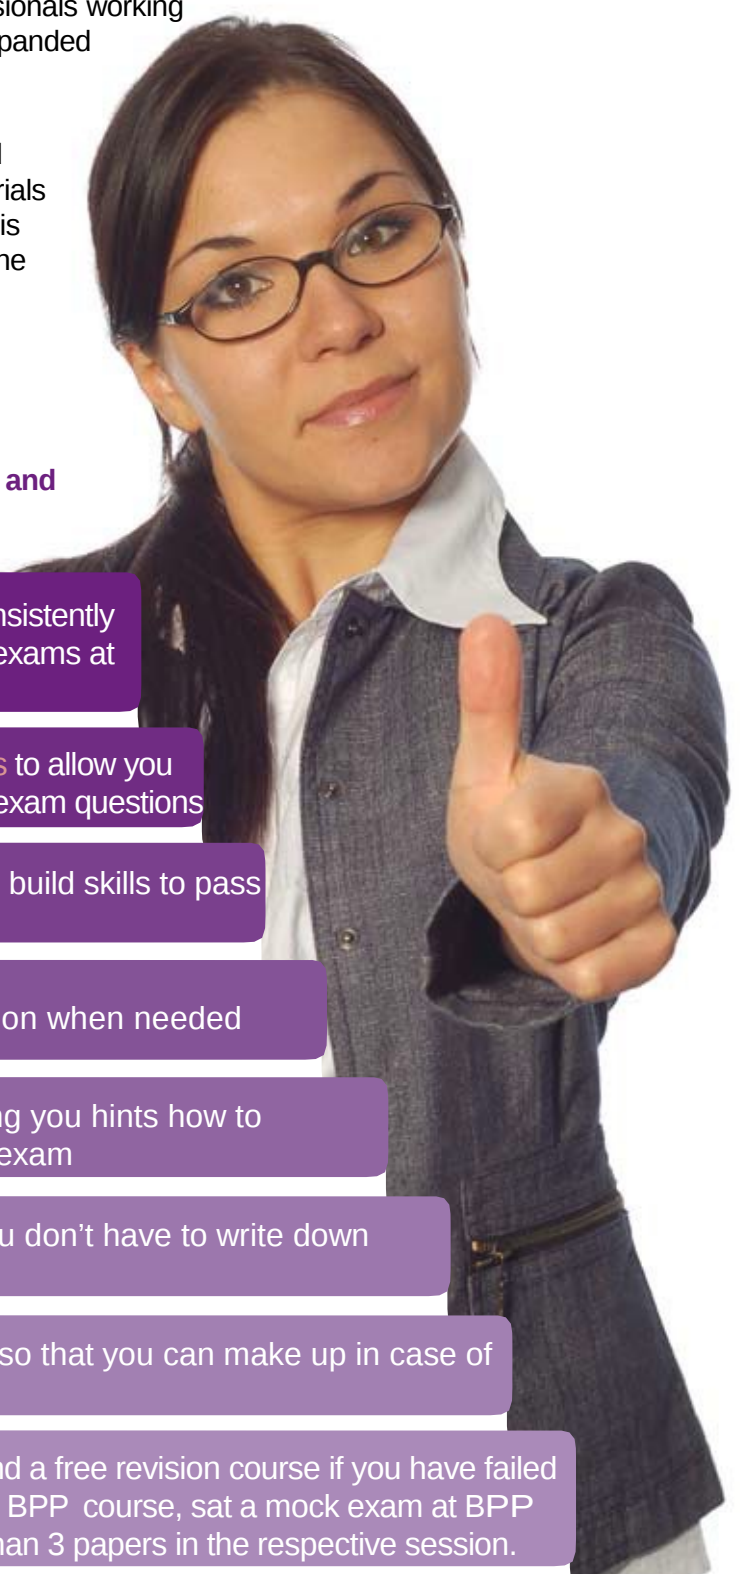

Course notes are given at each phase, so that you don't have to write down everything the tutor says

Access to online lectures and questions debriefs so that you can make up in case of absence/ lack of concentration

Pass assurance scheme gives you the right to attend a free revision course if you have failed the real ACCA exam and if you have attended a full BPP course, sat a mock exam at BPP Centre, scored at least 30 marks and sat no more than 3 papers in the respective session.

Mock exams are performed under exam conditions to give you a sense of how prepared you are for the real exam

Attending courses allows you extra days of coached preparation. Our classes are engaging and make you grasp basics immediately.
