

FACILITATOR CALL OUT

Tobacco Factory Theatres, Bristol Old Vic and Travelling Light are looking for exceptional facilitators to help deliver their wide programmes of participatory activity.

TOBACCO FACTORY THEATRES

As a renowned theatre venue that presents a busy programme of diverse and exciting shows, we are keen to ensure the next generation of theatre makers is engaged, inspired and heard. Get Involved currently delivers activity for 0-99+ years, including five Young Theatre Maker companies, Get on Stage adult company, Young Producers, various holiday activities, a wide range of school workshops (both bespoke and production-related) plus a growing range of community activity in South Bristol.

BRISTOL OLD VIC

Bristol Old Vic offers creative opportunities to people of all ages from a wide variety of neighbourhoods and communities in our city. Whether it is a child's first visit to the theatre, a student's first workshop, a young person's first time performing or someone more experienced developing their knowledge and craft through one of our programmes. We understand the transformative power of theatre: it can improve confidence, raise aspirations, develop communication skills and self-expression, broaden team skills, encourage reflective thought and develop creativity.

TRAVELLING LIGHT

Travelling Light Theatre Company have been creating outstanding theatre that inspires thinking, engages emotions and fire imaginations for and with children & young people since 1984. Alongside their award winning professional productions, they run a large participatory programme, this provides over 6,000 theatrical experiences per year for children and young people aged 0-25. This includes five regular youth theatre groups, community projects and a large creative learning portfolio delivered in schools. Travelling Light have a particular focus on engaging participants who have barriers to accessing the arts, particularly those from their local community in Lawrence Hill.

As participation departments in all three organisations are looking to work with new artists, directors and facilitators, this is an ideal opportunity to meet the teams and find out more about our work.
