DESCRIPTION

The BUNKER teardown workbench combines durability with functionality, providing a versatile workspace for engineers in any garage or workshop. This workbench serves as a combination of a work table, teardown area, and storage unit, all made from high-quality steel. It features a heavy-duty worktop that includes a drain and a removable steel basin for safely collecting fluids for disposal. Additionally, there is a vice station for mounting a vice. For storage, the workbench includes a shelf and a lockable drawer, which comes with two keys. To enhance mobility, the unit is equipped with sturdy castors, two of which are fitted with brakes. To ensure long-lasting durability, the surface is protected by an industrial-strength matt powder coating that shields it from knocks and scrapes.
