DESCRIPTION

These long nose pliers are premium designed with a high leverage rivet, providing enhanced grip and cutting power with less effort. They are made from hardened and tempered drop forged chrome vanadium steel. The elongated, narrow jaws are perfect for reaching into tight spaces, while the pointed tips allow for grasping small objects and making precise adjustments. The jaws feature precision machined, induction hardened serrated cutting edges, providing extra grip and accuracy. The head is finely ground and coated with a black oxide finish and electrophoretic plating for superior corrosion resistance. The ergonomic soft grip handles ensure a secure, comfortable grip, requiring less effort and reducing fatigue.
