Code D758174AD | May 2026

“Plug and play” cable for programming of replacement proximity keys for popular models equipped with AA or A9 systems even when the alarm is active.

What does the ADC2022 bypass cable do?

With an active alarm, the ADC2022 bypass cable restores OBD communication so that Smart Pro, operating with the ADS2328 software, can duplicate replacement keys.

If all keys are lost, the emulator cable ADC2015 is needed to substitute the function of a working key.

No further intervention on the vehicle is necessary.

ADC2015 when no working key is available
