

Dear Parent/Carer,

We would extend our thanks to Braes pupils and their families for their efforts in remote learning today. We will continue with the structured pupil day and the interactive mix of approaches to lessons. Mrs Shaw (Depute Headteacher – Lomond) and Mr Smith (Depute Headteacher – Ochil) will be in touch to seek initial feedback from young people, and parents/carers, on approaches to remote learning. Education Scotland have also published guidance on approaches to remote learning which can be found at the link below:

In relation to attendance at lessons, the expectation is that all pupils virtually `attend` their timetabled lessons by participating in the activities set of them by class teachers. As is normal, should your young person be unwell and unable to participate in remote learning, please contact the school as you usually would to advise of their absence.

I look forward to seeing your young person(s) continue to progress in their learning over the period, and hope all Braes families are keeping and coping as well as possible.

Yours faithfully,

Iain Livingstone
