INTRODUCTION

Cardiff Astronomical Society was founded in July 1975, and was originally based at the old Penylan Observatory. Unfortunately, due to years of neglect by the City Council, exacerbated by vandalism, the observatory had to be closed down early in 1979, and the Society moved its headquarters to the present room in University College, kindly made available through the good offices of Dr Mike Edmunds of the Department of Applied Mathematics and Astronomy.

Meetings are held fortnightly, on alternative Thursdays between September and July in Room 230, Department of Law, University College, Cardiff (see map opposite). They commence at 7.30 pm and finish shortly after 9.00 pm. The programme comprises lectures, short talks, quizzes etc., and we try and cater for all interests at whatever level, whether beginner or more advanced. Besides the indoor meetings, informal observing sessions are arranged from time to time by our Director of Observations, and notice of these is given at the indoor meetings, or via the Newsletter.

The Society owns several portable instruments. Recently we purchased a 10-inch Dobsonian for use at observing sessions, and there is a 6-inch Newtonian reflector available for members to loan, via the Director of Observations. Additionally there is a 3½-inch refractor and a 6-inch rich-field telescope; these instruments are being renovated, but should be available shortly.

A comprehensive library is available for use at meetings, and a list of holdings is given elsewhere in this Handbook. The Society publishes a Newsletter bimonthly that gives information on forthcoming activities, current phenomena in the sky etc. Any member is invited to contribute. In conjunction with the Federation of Astronomical Societies we publish an Astrocalendar that gives details of planetary phenomena, eclipses, meteor showers etc. for the forthcoming year.

Subscriptions: Adults £7.50 per annum, Juniors £2.00 per annum.
Due September 1 1987 for 1987-88 session. Prompt payment appreciated.
