Introduction

Cardiff Astronomical Society was founded in July 1975 by Dr Bob Owens and Dave Powell at an out of London meeting of the British Astronomical Association held at Dyffryn Gardens. They are both still members today as the Society continues to develop its activities supported by a very active and enthusiastic committee.

Membership has increased to over 200 and is drawn from a wide geographical area South and South West Wales, and into the West Country. Despite the travelling involved members attending meetings usually number over 60 and on several occasions during the year this number will reach over 100.

Meetings are held on alternate Thursday evenings September to July at University of Wales College Cardiff, beginning at 7:30pm. UWCC has a world class astronomy and physics department and the Society receives tremendous support from everyone there led by our own President Professor Mike Disney.

The programme is varied comprising of lectures, short talks and debates. The aim is to cater for all interests at whatever level, beginner or advanced. The Society is able to attract the very best speakers from all over the UK. We hold regular observing evenings at one of two designated sites where members can look up at the night sky with the help of more experienced observers and some of the telescopes owned by the Society. For those who need help there is a naked eye sky tour to start the night off.

A comprehensive library is available for use by all members and telescopes can be borrowed by arrangement. We publish a regular newsletter that gives information on forthcoming events, activities, current phenomena etc. All members are invited to contribute.

The Society is frequently featured in locally made science education programmes on television and radio and we are actively involved with national events such as Science Week and at Techniquiest Discovery Centre in Cardiff Bay.

The map on page 13 shows the location of the venue. It is easy to get to and close to bus and train routes. Ample car parking is available nearby. If in doubt contact any Committee member (phone numbers on page 5 & 6). Please make every effort to attend - it is encouraging for speakers to have a large audience and makes it easier for the Society to attract the best.

Subscription: Adults £13.50 Juniors £2.50 Family £18.50

Subscriptions are due on September 1st and prompt payment is appreciated.

A warm and friendly welcome promised for all!!

The Bill Sutherland Award

This award was set up in memory of Bill Sutherland an early member of CAS, who passed away in 1990. It is awarded each year at the AGM, to a CAS member who has shown outstanding enthusiasm for astronomy and the Society.

Work for the award can be of any astronomical or Society nature and may include (but not exclusively) things like observational drawings, photographs, CCD images, newsletter articles, Talks given to the Society.

Obviously some work comes to the attention of the awarding committee automatically (such as a newsletter article), other work by its nature may need to be brought to the attention of the awarding committee by its author (e.g. photographs).

Remember we are not necessarily looking for technical excellence but rather enthusiasm for astronomy and CAS, so enter your work for consideration for this award.
