Introduction

This guide will give you an overview of how to configure your Peoples Pension deductions in the payroll. Creating the output file is covered in a separate guide, see the Pension Guide for more information.

The guide covers:

- Creating an employee pension deduction
- Creating an employer pension deduction

Peoples Pension permit employers to calculate the pension deduction based on a percentage of Qualifying Earnings, Pensionable Earnings or Total Earnings. The tax basis of the pension deduction can be via Salary Sacrifice (also known as Salary Exchange), Gross or Net. For more information about People's Pension terminology click here.

For instructions on how to setup the employee and employer pension deduction, select your pension scheme option from the list:

- Net pension – based on Qualifying Earnings
- Gross \(Net Pay Arrangement\) pension – based on Qualifying Earnings
- Salary Sacrifice \(Salary Exchange\) pension – based on Pensionable Earnings or Total Earnings

A Qualifying Earnings pension deduction is calculated as a percentage of the employee's Qualifying Earnings between the lower limit and upper limit. For tax year 2015/16, the lower limit is £5,824 and the upper limit is £42,385.

Net pension - based on Qualifying Earnings

A Net pension deduction is deducted from the employee's pay after Tax and NI is calculated, then the employee receives basic rate tax relief on that pension deduction; for tax year 2014/15 the rate is 20%. Higher rate tax payers need to claim the remaining tax relief from HMRC. This method of deducting pension contributions HMRC call relief at source (RAS).

In payroll, if say the employee's pension deduction is 1%, you would enter 1% in the employee's pension deduction standard value but the actual deduction will be 0.8% from their pay.

A Qualifying Earnings pension deduction is calculated as a percentage of the employee's Qualifying Earnings between the lower limit and upper limit. For tax year 2015/16, the lower limit is £5,824 and the upper limit is £42,385.
