

A Guide to the History of Messaging

Today, more than five billion people across the globe can send and receive text messages. But in 1984, this method of communication was just a kernel of an idea. See the history of SMS messaging and chat. The evolution may surprise you!

