

Occupational Health Absence Management Service

Colleague health is paramount but with information relating to COVID-19 changing daily, it is essential to keep people up to date with the latest information and guidance.

Sugarman Occupational Health has set up an Occupational Health and COVID-19 Advisory Service to support Managers and HR teams in providing medical advice in response to the increasing numbers of questions and concerns in the workplace. An element of the service is an Occupational Health Absence Management Solution for all employees and managers, whereby the qualified nurses managing the helpline will record and report absence on behalf of the employer.

Occupational Health Coronavirus Advice Service

Struggling to cope with increasing numbers of Coronavirus related questions and concerns?

COVID-19 Advisory Service

- Access to a qualified nurse
- Dedicated helpline service
- Up to date resource portal

 Read more

The advice line is manned by qualified Occupational Health and Occupational Health Screening Nurses, who are available to reassure and support colleagues in respect of their symptoms and return to work timeframes with reports and notifications to management.

Our dedicated helpline is open Monday to Sunday, 7am - 10pm

You will have access to

- Absence recording
- Notifications by email to managers
- Management information
- Account management team support
- Occupational health service integration
- Medical advice from a qualified nurses

Pay as you go pricing

Cost per absence call and management report

1 to 3000 Staff: £15
3001 to 5000 Staff: £12
5001+ Staff: £10

Bespoke pricing available for fixed volume contracts

Find out more by contacting the team Monday to Friday, between 9:00am and 5:00pm.

Call; 02476 309 727 or email; info-occhealth@sugarmanhealth.com

