DUBLIN 2.

17 September, 1991.

Dear Geraldine,
I write to confirm the awarding of the Magnus Hirschfeld Award for 1991 to yourself and Arthur Leahy for a lot of hard work done through the years. I don't think we have ever met but I certainly look forward to our running foul of each other on the weekend of the 11-13 October in Cork. Donal Sheehan is co-ordinating the booking of the Metropole Hotel (or rather part of it) for some time on Saturday 12th. I do hope that you will be able to maake it along to the ceremony which I promise will not turn into a speechifying session. Have dropped a note to Arthur Leahy - the other recipient of the award - you might know him!

Looking forward to meeting you all in Cork.

Regards,

Michael Dillon,
Secretary.
