

Schedule for filming of interviews with local Yes Equality Groups and Allies around Ireland.

Archiving the history of the
Yes Equality Campaign
Nationally, Regionally and Locally.

What are you being asked to do:

As you know we are in the process of documenting the historic national campaign that was Yes Equality. One of the most important aspects of this is capturing the experiences of the local Yes Equality groups throughout the country.

We are inviting the group leaders from each of the local or regional Yes Equality groups to record their experience in on-camera interviews. These interviews will consist of questions like.. How the group was formed, details of events and activities of the group, canvassing and any other relevant information. Each on-camera interview will last approximately thirty minutes.

We are scheduling the interviews in eight locations around the country and hope you as group leader(s) can participate. These will take place starting from next Monday 27th July and continue over the following three week period. Because of the short time scale and logistics, we will only be able to record in these central locations. Our aim is to lessen travel for all participants as much as possible and, where required, we will provide travel costs.

If the central location for your catchment area does not suit, you are welcome to try the next nearest location to you and we will do our best to facilitate that. Failing that, we have allowed extra days for interviews in Dublin and Cork towards the end of the schedule.

At the end of this document are guidelines to help you organise the materials you are handing over to the archive. We understand your time is limited and you have already given so much of it to the campaign. However, our limited resources mean we have to ask you to make one more effort to help us archive as much material as we can. Please do not be put off handing over these historic materials because of the time limits. We want as much material as we can collect.

What we need you to do now:

- Locate your county on the following pages, note the date and location of the recordings.
- Chose a time slot which best suits you for that day. We will do our best to facilitate your first preference, but we may need to shift the slot to the one before of after your preference.
- Email Karl Hayden (karl@yesequality.com) with your preference, include your contact mobile/phone number. He will then contact you with a confirmation of the time slot. We will operate on a first come basis.
- Arrive at least thirty minutes prior to the allocated time slot.
- Bring with you any campaign materials you have to hand over for the archive.
- Prior to the recording of your interview you will be given a number of 'Consent and Release' forms to complete and sign.
- Where applicable, we will ask you to complete a claim form for travel expenses.

After the recording of the interview:

- We will collate all the interviews and send you a copy of your's as a timecode DVD within 21 days for your own records.

Many thanks for your time and efforts in this.

Guidelines on preparing materials for the archive:

We hope to provide a legacy for future generations to look back at this time in our cultural development and see clearly the extent of the Yes Equality Campaign at national, regional and local levels. We can only do this with your help. To this end we are providing you with these guidelines, which are as a result of consultations with the National Library.

We want to ensure, as far as possible, all the materials being handed over for the archive are fully credited and explained. This information will be invaluable to future researchers when telling or understanding the story of the Yes Equality Campaign and the Marriage Equality referendum of 2015.

Photos:

- Name of the copyright holder. That is the person who took the picture regardless of who's camera it was taken with.
- As far as possible, name the people featured in the photo.
- Give a brief description of the story behind the photo. When and where is was taken, what the event was.
- Name of the person who is submitting the photo(s)
- We can accept CDs, DVDs or print copies of the photos. If you can not provide these we can accept USB keys or hard drives on the day to copy the photo(s).

Video:

- Who produced the video, who owns the rights to the video.
- A brief description of the video, what is it for or about, how was it used.
- If music is included, who owns the rights.
- We can accept CDs or DVDs. If you can not provide these we can accept USB keys or hard drives on the day to copy the video(s).

General Note on Photo and Video Materials:

- Images taken in a public place are not subject to permission of those featured.
- Images taken in a private setting, ie: in a private house or a place where a person may have a reasonable expectation of privacy maybe subject to permission of those featured.

Print Materials:

- Describe the material, what is it, what was it used for, who designed it. Label on the exterior.
- Please do not fold any of the materials, such as posters, flyers, banners etc. Instead, please roll them up and use a strip of paper to wrap around them, then hold it together with a small piece of tape. Alternatively, use a piece of string or ribbon to tie them closed.

We plan to make all of this available on a Yes Equality archive website and to send copies of all the material gathered to the National Library's archive so that it can be made available for future research and study.
