MY PICKS OF THE WEEK

Most serious Italian wine lovers know about the best wines of Bolgheri, Tuscany's coastal wine region known for making formidable Bordeaux blends and Merlots. Names such as Sassicaia, Ornellaia and Masseto are icons, and collectors from all over the world seek these wines out. But there are a number of up-and-coming estates to look out for that are making balanced and focused wines from blends of predominately Cabernet Sauvignon with either Cabernet Franc, Merlot or both. Orma is produced outside of the appellation so it only carries the Toscana designation. Check these out.
