Registration Policy

The International Currency Association reserves the right to deny attendance or registration to any individual or entity for any reason, including failure to meet the following guidelines. The ICA is committed to creating a conference environment that is safe, professional and of mutual trust where diversity and inclusion are valued, and where everyone is entitled to be treated with courtesy and respect. GCF organisers commit to making conferences, workshops, and all associated activities productive and enjoyable for everyone. We will not tolerate harassment of participants, speakers or facilitators in any form. Please follow these guidelines: Behave professionally. Harassment and sexist, racist, or exclusionary comments or jokes are not appropriate. Harassment includes sustained disruption of talks or other events, inappropriate physical contact, sexist language and imagery, deliberate intimidation, stalking, and photography or recording of an individual without consent. It also includes offensive comments related to individual characteristics, for example: age, gender, sexual orientation, disability, physical appearance, race, nationality or religion. All communication should be appropriate for a professional audience including people of many different backgrounds.

Participants are invited to register under the correct category for their company type. The GCF organisers reserve the right to review the choice for each attendee and to adapt it as appropriate. The registration categories are listed below.
