

Press release

Fast forward to Decosit 2023 on 5-6 September at Brussels Expo

After a positive evaluation of this year's edition, the organisation of Decosit is proud to announce the dates for next year: in 2023 Decosit will take place on 5 & 6 September, before Maison & Objet. It will be an ideal moment to view the autumn collections of leading companies in upholstery and decoration fabrics. Fedustria, the professional association of leading textile companies in Belgium, together with its members, will continue to be the organisers of this premium event.

High end trade fair

Decosit is a high end trade fair with a limited number of exhibitors to facilitate the dialogue between manufacturers and buyers. The majority of the exhibitors and visitors are Belgian, but foreign companies are also well represented. This year, we had the opportunity to welcome exhibitors as well as visitors from the Netherlands, Poland, the United States and India.

Daphne Renier, Textile Product Manager at Fedustria, evaluates: "Decosit was not overrun by large crowds but it was a very focused audience, so the quality of visitors exceeded the quantity. This also allowed exhibitors to dedicate extensive time to their clients. Decosit guarantees high-quality contacts and a very personal approach in a friendly setting. This sets Decosit apart from the often large-scale fairs."

Fast forward to 2023

The broad offer of interior textiles – ranging from upholstery fabrics to window and wall coverings – gathered in the heart of Europe, is of great interest to both producers and buyers. For 2023, Decosit aims to attract even more foreign visitors with an even stronger and larger Belgian representation. Belgium guarantees top quality and is the beating heart of the textile sector. Therefore, a special Belgian Night with a famous keynote speaker will be organised on 5 September 2023.

A unique networking place

Combined with the sophisticated appearance inside Hall 10, a restored Art Deco hall at Brussels Expo, Decosit's location is perfectly adapted for the interior networking event of the season.

Daphne Renier will welcome you daily from 10:00 am till 06:00 pm in Hall n° 10 at the Brussels Expo venue. She will be the point of contact for any questions about this initiative.

In the meanwhile, don't hesitate to check www.decosit.brussels to discover the latest news about Decosit.

We are definitely looking forward to seeing you next year in September!
