The cover art features a dynamic illustration of Captain Albator, a character with long brown hair and a determined expression, wearing a black military-style uniform with a red collar and yellow trim. He is holding a large, stylized skull and crossbones emblem. The background is a dark, starry space with a large, bright yellow sun or moon on the right. In the upper left, there are large, dark, abstract shapes resembling a giant skull. A small skull and crossbones icon is visible on the left side of the cover, near the bottom.
