Long Term Vehicle Storage Guidelines

If your Motorhome is to be placed in storage for any length of time, particularly through a winter period, the following suggestions may help:

- ❖ Prior to arriving at the storage site, make safe all L.P gas cylinders and then drain down the entire water system including the toilet.
- ❖ Drain and clean any drinking water vessels
- ❖ Remove all bedding, clothing, mattresses, cushions, pillows and any other soft goods or loose upholstery
- ❖ Remove any food and food containers from the vehicle
- ❖ Leave blinds open. Leaving spring-loaded blinds open avoids loss of tension.
- ❖ Leave cupboard and locker doors partly open to increase natural air circulation
- ❖ Clean the vehicle inside and allow it to dry out ready for future use
- ❖ Protect the relevant batteries by switching off the 12 volt system according to the manufacturer's instructions
- ❖ Make sure all heating systems are turned off
- ❖ Place both front wheels on levelling blocks to prevent water build up on the roof
- ❖ If possible place a few commercially available dehumidifying bags around the interior to control damp
- ❖ If not storing with wheels clear of the ground, fit wheel-chocks for safety
- ❖ Close and secure all windows and roof lights and fit winter covers as applicable
- ❖ Release the handbrake to prevent future brake binding
- ❖ Place a drip tray or similar beneath the engine to trap possible oil leaks
- ❖ Visually check all batteries to ensure they are not leaking
- ❖ Leave a spare key with the storage company in case of an emergency

Do not forget about your motorhome. Make regular visits to ensure everything is in good condition. Your vehicle will benefit from being driven occasionally to keep the engine, transmission and brakes in good condition.

At all times please observe your vehicle manufacturers instructions and guidelines for your safety and the preservation of your vehicle.

Wellsbridge Motorhomes provides storage exclusively to their customers. If you would like to check availability and prices please speak with a member of the Sales Team.
