Liverpool Life Sciences UTC is the first 14-19 college in the UK that specialises in science, engineering and healthcare. It is a unique college offering exceptional opportunities for young people from a wide range of backgrounds to complete a wider curriculum alongside traditional A Levels, BTECs and GCSEs that is designed to prepare them for future careers in science, medicine, nursing and engineering. Life Sciences UTC works hand in hand with local universities, the NHS and national and multinational businesses within these sectors to understand the aptitudes, skills and experiences young people need to be successful. We are delighted that going forward, we will be able to work with the Army as one of our major partner organisations.

Life Sciences UTC is extremely excited to have the first CCF Contingent nationally to be affiliated with the Royal Army Medical Corps. It is our Contingent's aim for our cadets to understand and potentially one day contribute to the massive humanitarian role the Army plays worldwide. While developing key personal skills through the CCF Army curriculum, working with the extensive range of highly skilled professionals both at 208 Field Hospital and in the local NHS will give our cadets a truly unique experience.

We are looking for a passionate, self-motivated School Staff Instructor focused on delivering life-changing opportunities to work with a diverse student group to support their journey into medicine, nursing, engineering and more.
