

Carly's Story

Carly is the mum of Colby one of the Leiston Development players. Carly is boxing for the first time in a charity fight on 18th November to raise money for PAPYRUS. She currently trains at gfpsuffolkpunch

This is her story:

On Saturday 18th November, I am stepping way out of my comfort zone and into the boxing ring to take part in a charity boxing match for PAPYRUS.

Why?

After being encouraged by my friend to try boxing with her, I found I loved it! Trying something new challenged me in many ways, but also reignited my love for exercise. It was new, it was fun.

I knew about the charity fights and had been going to watch the boxing shows for years, but never thought I would do one. Until coaches at the gym suggested it, planted the seeds. The seeds grew, and I entered!

Picking my charity was easy. My friend that encouraged me to try boxing, has been bereaved by suicide. PAPYRUS UK is the charity that has supported her, and that she supports. I need to support the charity, help them help even just one other person and their family, friends and community. I feel this is another way I can support my friend.
