FOUNDATION OF THE CLUB

"Yorkshire Evening Post", May 1898.

THE PAVILION

"The new pavilion which the Ealing Cricket Club inaugurated at their annual dinner on Monday, is a brick built structure of two floors, with a balcony along the front to each floor, with a turret which forms the scorers' box. Mr. J. C. Coode presided at the dinner at which many loyal toasts were drunk".

"Middlesex County Times", 5th May, 1900.

The pavilion extension was inaugurated at a Sherry Party given by the President, Mr. T. B. Entwistle, on January 25th 1973. Some 250 Members and their Ladies attended.

On 5th May 2000, at an event to celebrate the Centenary of the Pavilion, the extension was named "THE TOM ENTWISTLE ROOM".

On 18th March 2022, the Club celebrated its delayed 150th Anniversary at a dinner in the Long Room at Lords Cricket Ground with nearly 200 members and guests in attendance.
