Introduction

AFC Kirk Hallam is a well established local adult amateur football team that has been in existence since 1994. Until 2007, the club was called Three Horseshoes FC and played their matches in the Derby Taverners football league, at which point, the move was made to enter the Long Eaton Sunday league in division three. In 2011, the decision was made to change the name of the club to AFC Kirk Hallam and relocate our home ground to the Stanton Institute, home of Ilkeston Rugby club. By this time, the club had won the Long Eaton Sunday League Junior cup and achieved two promotions to division one.

In 2013, we successfully added a second team to our club and now have teams in the Long Eaton Sunday League Premier Division and Division Two. The next logical step for the continued growth of the club would be to move into youth football, with the aim to give local young people the opportunity to develop and give them a clear path from youth football into adult football if they are not fortunate enough to be picked up by local professional academies. The plan is to start with an under 11's and under 16's team for the 2017/2018 season and see how that goes, before expanding further into more age groups, girls/ladies football and veterans football.

The club has recently become an FA Charter Standard adult club, which is a nationally recognised standard and shows that the club is being ran properly. We are looking to upgrade this classification to FA Charter Standard youth club over the following year, and eventually into an FA Charter Standard Community Club. At this point, we will have fully established the pathway into adult football and have some of our ex junior players in the adult reserves or first team.

As AFC Kirk Hallam continues to grow, it is important that the club offers its members the chance to feel like one club. The opportunity for players and supporters to have club branded teamwear is something that we feel will help this sense of being.
