On the weekend of Saturday 12th and Sunday 13th October there will be some changes to usual traffic routes in Oxford, due to the Oxford Half Marathon. The full list of roads to be closed can be found below, along with their latest reopening times. Access for emergency vehicles will be maintained at all times on all roads.

On Saturday 12th, Broad Street (between Turl St & Magdalen St East) will close at 08:00. At 18:00 the remainder of Broad Street, along with Parks Road (between Holywell St & South Parks Rd) and a small section of Museum Road will close. These roads will remain closed on Sunday 13th and reopen no later than 18:00. Parking suspensions will be in place throughout this period on Broad Street, Parks Road and Museum Road.

All additional roads listed below close at 08:00 on Sunday 13th, with the exception of Holywell Street which closes at 06:00. Access for emergency vehicles will be maintained at all times on all roads.

Please note, if residents on the east of Banbury Road (in the Norham Manor, North Oxford and Summertown areas) require vehicle access out of the area during the closure period on Sunday morning, then we recommend relocating your vehicles to the west side of Banbury Road from 18:30 on Saturday evening. Please be aware of any parking restrictions in place on these roads, although there are plenty of unrestricted bays in these areas from 18:30 on Saturday and throughout Sunday.

In addition to the above closures some roads adjoining the race route will experience restricted access. Please check the map and details of the access points overleaf. For any additional queries please contact us directly. We hope this advance notice helps with your planning around the road closures.
